Indications are that "The Microbes of Love" Given Thursday Evening at the Washington Will Be Largely Attended.

"The Microbes of Love," a musical comedy show given by home talent under the auspices of the local lodge of Red Men which is to be the attraction at the Washington Theater Thursday evening promises to attract a great house. Tickets now on sale are going fast and the house will probably be crowded.

The cast is one of the best ever assembled in Maysville for a home talent show and they have been trained by an expert who has had much experience and who has proven himself one of the best directors Maysville talent has had the pleasure of working with.

The play is indeed a musical show. There will be many catchy songs and much lively music during the evening. The chorus has been selected not alone for the good looks of the members but for their ability to sing and dance.

Everyone is going to attend the big show of the year and seat reservations should be made immediately at Shaffer & Watkins' store in Third street.

COLLEGE STUDENT BODY SUPPORTS MISSIONARIES

Mr. Wm. Stout, Who Visited Here Recently, and His Wife Soon Return to China to Resume Their Work.

"Chinese students studying in America are the hope of China," is the declaration of Rev. W. W. Stout, missionary to China. Reverend Stout, who has spent four years in China as Professor of Homoeities in North China Baptist College, and is preparing to return to his work in a few days.

Reverend Stout has been very active in the recent campaign for the benefit of the Starving Chinese, and his address before the Chapel at Georgetown College was a direct appeal for the aid of needy students in the Chinese Colleges. His idea is that the Chinese students returning to China with the ideas of Western civilization that they have absorbed are the hope of that country. He said that when China has adopted Christianity and the Christian religion she will have a deep sense of gratitude to America for help and encouragement.

The Georgetown College Student body is supporting Mr. and Mrs. Stout on the Mission Field as their special representatives.

THAT LEVY REDUCTION

Pointing out that there is a fallacy in our statement that $12,626.19 was spent by Mr. A. L. Glascock's Infirmary in the period from March, 1920, to April, 1921, because only $7,220.29 is derived from the tax levy for infirmary purposes, the Daily Independent in today's issue endeavors to laud the Democratic candidate for a reduction in the levy for the Infirmary since he became chairman of that institution as a member of the Mason Fiscal Court.

In its article the Independent fails to give Mr. Glascock credit for making any money whatever on the Infirmary's splendid 130 acre farm and reduces the amount fixed by the Public Ledger as the income from direct Infirmary taxation from $7,500 to $7,220.29. It fails to take into consideration any income whatever except that derived from the four cent levy, not only refusing to recognize that the farm brings into the Infirmary fund any cash, but also failing to give the state credit for its regular allowance for incompetents and other incomes which go into the Infirmary fund, swelling it to a point far above that reached by direct taxation.

The Independent endeavors to reduce the per capita and places it at $6.50. This is considerably lower than the Public Ledger's figures but accepting their own figure, there are few average families in Mason county who could stand the expense of $6.50 per member per week for the absolute necessities of life and the thinking heads of families in Mason county will not consider even this figure a record "proud to claim."

The Independent appears to be proud of the fact that the Infirmary levy has been reduced two cents on the one hundred dollars during the period of Mr. Glascock's service as Commissioner. Let's take a look at the assessment against which this levy has been charged and see how much has actually been saved the taxpayers of Mason county by the reduction of levy of which the Independent and Mr. Glascock appear to be quite proud.

The assessment for Mason county, outside the City of Maysville, which city is not taxed for Infirmary purposes, during the four years in which Mr. Glascock has served as Commissioner follows:

1920—17,214,188.

These figures do not include the franchise assessments upon which the Infirmary levy is also taxed.

From these figures it will be seen that despite the fact that the levy for Mr. Glascock's Infirmary has been reduced two cents on the one hundred dollars, the lesser levy in 1921 has delivered to him a much larger sum than the larger levy produced in 1918. Is Mr. Glascock proud of the fact that the assessment on Mason county property has been increased, giving him the opportunity to reduce the levy for Infirmary purposes two cents on an assessment increase of more than six millions of dollars?

In its conclusion, the Independent again returns to the road issue saying that $70,000 for road purposes was spent from April, 1920, to April, 1921, and intimating that this sum of money was spent on Judge Purnell's checks before the members of the Fiscal Court knew anything about it. If Mr. Glascock, elected by the people of Mason county, sat in Fiscal Court and permitted the expenditure of $70,000 before knowing anything about it, he is not possessed of such ability as a county, like Mason, should have in its County Judge nor is his record as a supervisor of the county's fiscal affairs so splendid. But then, Mr. Glascock does not assume his responsibility in road matters. As a matter of fact, all checks for roads are issued and signed by the County Road Supervisor, an agent of the Fiscal Court, elected by them and then counter-signed by the County Judge.

The Old Folks Say

"A man can often change his mind when he can't change his shirt."—We changed our mind just a little bit this morning when we had an inspiration.

We brother Red Men are giving a Musical Show Thursday evening, October 20, as you all know, a tuneful comedy called "Microbes of Love," and from present indications, everybody and his brother will be there. The inspiration was "Why not have the drawing for the Chevrolet Touring Car take place on the stage during the play?" No sooner said than done, so, Grand Keeper of the Wigwag, Big Chief James Frost, gave us permission to have some one in the audience draw for the lucky coupon. The drawing will take place between the second and third acts.

The Chevrolet will be parked outside the Opera House, and if the holder of the lucky ticket is in the house, he may drive home in his own machine.

In the event that the ticket is not in the house, the lucky number will be advertised in all the local papers, and the car will await its owner, safe and sound in our store room.

Yours, to enjoy the show,

THREATENED STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED BY R. R. LABOR BOARD

Chicago, October 19. — The United States Railroad Labor Board, peace-maker with a club, planned a truce between railroad employees and executives today.

2: Requests to leaders of other unions to hold up strike decisions for the present.

MAKING AUDIBLE THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

President Harding has introduced the public group of the Railway Labor Board to the Interstate Commerce Commissioners. It was high time these two agencies of the people in behalf of safe and reasonable transportation service got acquainted, and the President performer an act in public policy when he succeeded in doing that for them which seemed not to have occurred to either or both of them to do for themselves. He got them together for a mutual understanding of their separate and joint missions.

The President did not take to the Interstate Board with him for purpose of introduction other than the public group of three members of the Labor Board. The three railroad labor members and the three railroad management members were omitted because each would simply have represented his particular group of interests. What the President evidently had in mind is to get the representatives of the people and the government in conference in behalf of the best adjustment for the country and the great mass of the country's citizenship, irrespective of individual, class and corporate interests.

And it was time just some action as this be taken. The railroad managers are taking pretty good care of their end of the controversy and have not failed to connect with such financial aid and rate enlargement as they maintained in the circumstances they are entitled to receive. The railroad labor unions have just as stubbornly maintained their position of wage impregnability. So far as they are concerned, the Railroad Labor Board is a federal figment, a mere governmental trill to be heard as an indulgence and heeded not at all. That being the case, and conditions are amply in evidence of it, the President was pressed to ascertain just where the country and the people come in. Hence the conference.

It has been declared by pre-eminent statesmanship that the country can not exist half slave and half free. The principle is just as vital today as it was when that declaration was established by force of arms and ratified by force of constitutional enactment. The country can not exist, the people can not live, half feasted and half starved. Capital and labor must compose their differences amicably in equity, with due consideration for the third member of the trinity, or that member must be given a voice in adjustment.

That is why under the shadow of a trial of strength between railroad management and railroad men, in which both declare war to the death, the President of the United States calls together the representatives of the country and the people in this particular controversy that the voice of the country and the people may be heard in defense of citizenship right put in jeopardy by a war of classes.

THE TROUBLES OF TAXATION.

This is not the only government having serious complications over taxes. Mexico is adding that particular brand of trouble to her already long list. From the State of Puebla come stories of rioting and chaos, even violence unto death. This, we are told, is all against the government's tax laws. The stores are closed, bread and milk supplies exhausted and the people in dire distress to the point of hunger and suffering. Truly a sad state of case for both the people and the government.

The United States is not yet in such lamentable case, but it is in confusion and no end of controversy. Beyond dispute this matter of taxation is a muddle. Congress after Congress and Legislature after Legislature puzzles over taxing problems, passes laws and regrets them. But we get no wiser. It has been this way since the beginning of government and bids fair to be this way to the end of time. When the idea of the taxation commission of experts in economic science was born the world rejoiced as a soul in the presence of redemption. But so far the scientists have but made confusion worse confounded.

The people of Puebla are mostly Indian, and naturally taxing troubles drive them to violence, the traditionally proper protest of Indians. In the past they have driven civilized nations to drink. That once was an American method of relief in relaxation. But never again! It is immoral, unlawful, and more effective still, expensive to get and awful to drink!

GRAIN FED NOW BOOSTS

FALL MILK PRODUCTION.

Successful feeding of dairy cattle during the fall of the year requires the use of grain in addition to what pastures may still exist, dairy specialists say. A feed composed of four parts of corn meal, two parts of wheat bran and two parts of cotton seed meal all mixed by weight and fed at the rate of one pound for every three and one-half pounds of milk that the cow produces each day is giving good results at the College of Agriculture farm as a fall grain feed. If the cow is yielding two gallons or about 17 pounds of milk daily she should receive five or six pounds of dry grain each day. If the pasture is not abundant it will be necessary to feed from five to ten pounds of good clover hay in addition to the grain.

Buy in Maysville. It pays.

BEES KILL HORSES.

Bees are reported to have stung to death a team of horses belonging to a farmer at Morton Grove, near Chicago. The farmer was driving the team, and while passing near one of his beehives a farmhand knocked it over. The bees attacked the farmer. He made his escape and they covered the horses. They were driven off by water from a house, but both horses died from their stings.

CATCHING UP ON SLEEP.

A medical authority states that it takes fifteen days for the average human body to recover fully from the loss of two consecutive nights' sleep. The lucky passengers on a train in an accident are those who are asleep at the time of the accident. The physician states they escape most of the bad effects of the shock.

IS WEALTH BAR

TO A CAREER?

"Not if You Have Impulse and Really Work," Says Famous Soprano.

There are scores of persons with talent pointed out in every town and the comment is made that they could have a distinguished career only they have too much money and therefore no incentive to work. It is a safe bet, according to Miss Edith Mason, soprano with the Chicago Opera Company, and a St. Louis girl who has made good in her chosen profession, that if a person has the impulse to succeed and is willing to devote his or her time and energy to working along the lines he should neither wealth nor poverty will be a drawback.

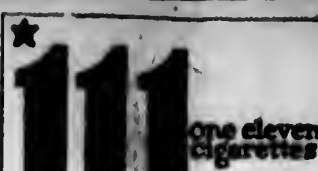

Miss Mason, who in private life is the wife of the chief conductor of the Chicago Opera Company, Maestro Giorgio Polacco, is the daughter of a wealthy St. Louis family. When she was young she wanted to become a singer and received the encouragement of her family, the members of which thought she wished to sing merely as a parlor accomplishment. When they realized that she had talent and genius for singing and that she intended to make the cultivation of her wife's life's work, they began to object to her having a career.

She was studying in New York City at the time and her mother issued an ultimatum to the effect that she must give up her singing lessons or her allowance would be cut off. When she refused to discontinue her singing her mother carried out her threat. Instead of capitulating to most wealthy young girls would have done, Miss Mason secured an engagement singing in New York City and made her own way for many weeks. When her mother realized she did not intend to give up her singing she visited Miss Mason and told her she felt that way about her work she would again help her and the allowance was continued.

"Wealth might be more of a bar to a career than poverty," said Miss Mason, who is preparing for the coming season in Chicago and New York by doing some of the hardest work she has in her life, "because comfortable circumstances tend to make many demands on a person's life that she does not have when she has neither money nor position."

"But I think neither wealth nor poverty can bar a person, when they have a real calling to do a certain thing. The girl with a real gift will cultivate that because with the gift is given the impulse to keep going until you reach the goal."

"There are the calls of her social position on a wealthy girl and there is generally the opposition of her family and friends. Instead of working hard and saving a simple life she is called upon to attend social affairs and she really does not have the time and energy to study and to go out in society. She must decide whether she will cultivate society or her gift—and then must work, using her wealth only as a means to the end.

"The poor girl is handicapped in another way, but she is left pretty much to herself. The mere matter of living is a problem with her, but once she has solved that she can devote all her time and her energy to her work. And if she has a talent there are always ways of having it developed without an excessive payment of money, which would be beyond her means."

"My advice to a girl who is ambitious is don't despair at the obstacles you have to overcome. Have faith in yourself and you can succeed in spite of the wishes of your family and friends and in spite of many financial difficulties that may be put in your way. It all depend on yourself—that is if a competent critic tells you you have the foundation of a vocal or operatic career."

OCTOBER IS FINAL MONTH FOR SOWING COVER CROPS.

October is the final month during which farmers who wish to protect their fields during the winter can sow cover crops, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. Many farmers have already realized the value of such crops and seeded their fields with them, reports from more than 50 Kentucky counties indicating that the acreage of such crops will be increased from one-third to one-fourth more than that of last year. Rye which has proved to be the most popular crop for this purpose up to the present time can be seeded later than any of the others recommended for cover crops, Dr. Stephenson said.

In sowing cover crops farmers are coping successfully with the largest single soil management problem which they have, Mr. Stephenson said. This problem is the conservation of plant food and the prevention of leaching and erosion. Regardless of leaching and erosion cover crops are profitable ones in view of their green manure and pasture value. Many Kentucky farmers will be compelled to sow cover crops this fall if they wish to keep their farms up to a high state of production since their fields are in such condition that in a few years they will be gullied an ditched beyond redemption, Mr. Stephenson said.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — The first time in the history of New York City a woman has been named as manager for a political party in a municipal campaign. She is Mrs. Helen S. Amed, who is to run the campaign for the Farmer-Labor party.

—NY—
The largest collection of books by and about the negro race that has ever been assembled is one of the things for which New York is famous among the colleges and research libraries of the world. It is housed in Young's Book Exchange in West 135th street. George Young, who started the exchange six years ago, is a former Pullman porter and became interested in the idea of such a shop when he was going out on private cars with occasional whole weeks in one place and plenty of time on his hands.

—NY—
Calamity stares a good many New York voters in the face this fall, and several hundred of them are losing sleep wondering if their comparatively innocent sin is going to be found out. The Honest Ballot Association has brought forward an all but forgotten law and is dangling it before the eyes of the careless ones. This is a clause making it a felony to register or vote in an election after making a bet on the results of that election. Yes, it's in the constitution of this state.

—NY—
For the first time in this city's multiple building operations, an obscure clause in the new height regulations has been taken advantage of for the benefit of the Hotel Commonwealth, now being built at Fifty-sixth street and Broadway. This clause says that a building may be carried straight up for 200 feet above the sidewalk building line. Then it must increase its height so that it remains within a line supposed to be drawn from the center of the street to the 200 feet point and from then on to infinity. However, the "obscure clause" allows 25 feet to be added to the 200 "if the building fronts on four streets." The Hotel Commonwealth will occupy the block between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets and Broadway and Seventh avenue and thus gains by this hitherto unused ruling. With its 2500 rooms it was originally planned to make the Commonwealth thirty-six stories high but this added sidewalk height will allow several full sized floors more than at first planned. Although this will decrease the height of the building, it will still be the tallest as well as the largest hotel in the world.

An interesting group of business men, artists, and foremost members of the Italian nation are gathered together at the Caruso Foundation. The foundation has been promoted for the sake of establishing a permanent American memorial to the great singer in the form of provision for musical education for youthful singers who need financial help in order to realize their ambitions.

Grace and Gertrude Mason, of Long Island City, aged four and five years respectively, decided that they were tired of playing school with out the real atmosphere about them. So they started out to hunt a school. They walked four miles looking for one, and then were picked up by a sympathetic patrolman and taken to the police station while he telephoned their parents. When their father arrived for them, Grace and Gertrude were joyfully doing sums for the police man, basking in the thought that they were in a real school.

Betty Blythe, the Queen, Tells of the Thrilling Effect Outslight Had Upon Her.

Next to the thrilling chariot race between Sheba and Vashti, which has aroused so much enthusiasm, perhaps the most spectacular scene in the mammoth William Fox spectacle, "Queen of Sheba," is the great battle between the armies of Solomon and his brother Adonijah, with Sheba's army coming up at the crucial moment to save the day.

When it is considered that over six thousand men are engaged and the greater part of the fighting takes place on and around the massive Tower of David.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Maysville Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Ask your neighbor. Maysville people testify to their worth.

Charles Kennan, retired farmer, 81 Wood street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several different times within the last few years and never had them fail to do me good. My kidneys were in a mighty bad shape the first time I used them. The secretions I passed were bloody and burned terribly. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple boxes of them. This medicine reached my case at once and cured me up in good shape. I have always relied upon Doan's ever since. I use a few now and then to regulate my kidneys and they never fail me."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kennan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

er of Davis — which, built for the production, has to bear the weight of many hundreds of armored men rushing to and fro — the magnitude of the task of J. Gordon Edwards, the director, may be realized.

Miss Betty Blythe, the Sheba of the picture, had a fund of stories of incidents that occurred during the making of the film on the west coast, and it was the battle scenes that left the most vivid impression on her mind.

"The days and nights we worked on the battle scenes," she said in an interview, "were the most exciting I ever had. Imagine a great city square, surrounded by massive Babylonian buildings and packed with surging humanity.

"Directed by bugle calls, which were ordered by the director over a system of field telephones, the crowds were a series of groups of people, each group having a specific part to play; while I stood in my chariot waiting for the signal to call me to rush in with my men.

"First the women of the court, at the first alarm of the attack by Adonijah's army, rushed up the steps of David's Tower and along the great spiral ramps to the top. Solomon's army sallied through the gates of the palace, to be turned back by the pikes and arrows of the invaders.

"Many cameras were playing on detailed bits of action, so that the screen shows even more than an observer on the spot could have seen; nevertheless, the whole mighty pageant stirred my blood and made me feel that I was really and truly the Queen of Sheba, riding, like Boadicea, in the forefront of battle to deliver my people. I had even forgotten Betty Blythe.

"The great battering ram of Adonijah beat down the heavy gate and the men rushed through the breach like a flood, carrying all before them.

"Then, when all the fighting men were on the spiral ramps, swaying back and forth with the tide of battle, the signal came for our advance, and forward we went. I never was so thrilled in my life. Not even the chariot race had given me such exhilaration.

"Not many women get so near to a battle as that, and I understand now what I didn't understand before—the thrill men get out of fighting."

SAYS FORD WILL SHIP AUTOMOBILES BY RIVER.

In a statement issued Monday at Cincinnati by Donald T. Wright of St. Louis, publisher of The Waterways Journal and an authority on waterway transportation, who is visiting in Cincinnati as the guest of Captain Gordon C. Greene, owner of the Greene Line of steamers, he predicted that because of the cheapness and economy of river transportation, Henry Ford will in a few years be sending hundreds of automobiles down the Ohio River by way of Cincinnati, and on to the South by way of the Mississippi River. Mr. Wright, who is a former President of the Alleghany River Improvement Association, conferred Monday with officials of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association.

Market quotations are to be sent by radio to ocean liners.

WEAK BLOOD IS A REAL BARRIER

Growing Children Often Need Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Some children grow too quickly—it saps their strength. They lapse into carelessness, desultory habits, or develop a shrinking attitude. Their faces look pinched.

The blood becomes overtaxed by too rapid growth; and poisons from the system take the place of strength-giving red corpuscles in the blood. Red corpuscles are those little red particles that swim in the blood and give it its color. Gradually that child loses interest in its play.

Poor blood needs the building that the iron in Gude's Pepto-Mangan gives to weakened blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan enriches the blood by increasing the number of red corpuscles, and restores the blood by driving out the poisons. When the revived blood gets to work, the appetite becomes what a growing child's should be. Your druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on every package.—Advertisement.

DROWNING SENSATIONS EXPERIENCED BY STAR

"Dinty" a Big First National Feature At the Washington on Next Friday Night.

Marjorie Daw, the pretty little motion picture actress, who will be seen in a leading part in "Dinty" when that production is seen at the Washington Theater on Friday declares she went through the most squeamish experience of her career during the making of that film.

She plays the part of Ruth Whitley, daughter of Judge Whitley, who has incurred the deadly enmity of "King" Dorkh, Malay half-breed and leader of a gang of highlanders. Dorkh kidnaps the judge's daughter and plans a terrible revenge for the sentence of his son. Ruth is strapped to a table under a swinging pendulum with a razor edge. The fiendish contrivance drops just an inch nearer and nearer the strangled victim. "Dinty" O'Sullivan, a newsboy, and his Chinese friends, however, bring about a rescue in the nick of time and Ruth is restored to her father and fiancé.

"Acting that scene was the most nerve-racking experience I have ever had," said Marjorie. "Of course, I knew that everything would come out all right, but just the same I had cold chills looking at that swinging pendulum. I believe I went through all the sensations of a drowning person, because it seems as though I thought of everything I had ever done in my whole life. The scene was terribly realistic and I never felt more relieved than I did when it was all over."

PEACE WITH CENTRAL POWERS NOW IN SIGHT.

Washington, Oct. 19. — President Harding may proclaim the United States officially at peace with the central powers on Armistice Day.

Peace between this country and her former enemies virtually was an accomplished fact today, however, by the Senate's ratification last night of the Harding treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary.

The vote was 66 to 20. The four countries now will exchange ratifications, after which peace will be proclaimed.

CHIEF MASON RAPS KU KLUX IN ADDRESS

Grand Master Acker Discourages the Members of Craft Joining Klan—Wants Law and Order to Prevail.

Louisville, Oct. 19. — Scoring of the Ku Klux Klan by Grand Master Fred Acker, of Paducah, and annual reports of the officers marked the opening of the three day meeting of the Grand Lodge of Mason of Kentucky here Tuesday.

Mr. Acker discouraged Mason joining the Ku Klux Klan, saying: "We should stand behind the legally constituted and elected officers of the nation, state and municipality, in seeing that law and order prevail."

"Any men or body of men who presume to take the law in their own hands are considered by law a mob, and therefore subject to prosecution by law of the land, and any Mason who is connected in any manner whatever in such unlawful practice is violating the principles of the great order."

It is expected that the custom of advancing officers will be adhered to at the election of officers Wednesday, in which event, Fred W. Harwick, Louisville, present deputy grand master, will be elected grand master.

The grand chapter will meet tonight while the annual entertainment provided by the children of the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home was scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.
